American Institute of Architects Recommendations

1. Develop a renovation policy, not a demolition approach. The city should facilitate how to help maintain these buildings as a first step of action.
2. Encourage good stewardship by offering assistance to property owners in helping them mitigate property issues proactively.
3. Mitigate penalties for those owners making good faith efforts to repair property. Keep an open and productive dialogue and consistent check points to ensure progress is happening.
4. Set aside past differences and focus on the future-to do less only hurts Cannelton and its ability to rebound.
5. Explore and honor the past.
